Functions

CREATE CONTENT

- Add questions or annotations to your own videos or YouTube links.
- Record audio in notes or over the video.
- Trim parts of the video.
- Add restrictions: prevent students from skipping ahead or pause the video when the student hides the tab in which it is playing.
- Check students' progress with assigned content (options in the Student Dashboard). Information includes how many times the video has been viewed, when it was last viewed, and an overview of correct and incorrect answers.
- Share created content with a class or publicly via a URL link.

CREATE/IMPORT CLASSES

- Create open or classic classes / Import classes from Google Classroom.
- Invite students to classes.
- Integration with LMS platforms (Moodle, Canvas, Schoology, Blackboard, PowerSchool, etc.).
- Integration with Google Classroom.

Educational uses

- Self-study tool: viewing complementary videos.
- Flipped classroom: teach theory through videos, using class time for project development, answering questions, etc.

Advantages

- Easy and simple to use.
- Free plan with a fairly generous amount of content and storage.
- LMS integration options.
- Progress-tracking capability.
- Ability to upload your own videos or YouTube content.

Disadvantages

- Limitations in the question format.
- Registration required.
- Limited amount of content.

Similar systems

- VideoAnt (<https://ant.umn.edu/>): quick registration; allows notes and descriptions to be added, but does not allow multiple-choice questions.
- WeVideo (<https://www.wevideo.com/>): also an interesting tool. Registration conditions are similar to Edpuzzle. Disadvantages compared with Edpuzzle: in the free version, it only allows videos to be used via URL, not uploaded as MP4 files. Advantages compared with Edpuzzle: greater variety in the format of questions and insertions in videos. Other difference: questions appear over the video itself rather than in a side panel as in Edpuzzle.
